

The Constitution of the Association of British Professional Conference Organisers

1.	Name and legal status
	The Association of British Professional Conference Organisers Limited (ABPCO) was founded in 1981 and incorporated as a company limited by guarantee in 1987.
2.	Objects
2.1	The Association of British Professional Conference Organisers (ABPCO) is a dedicated industry association representing professional conference organisers and those in the industry who clearly demonstrate the skills, knowledge and experience required to plan and organise major UK and international conferences. Its mission is to develop and enhance the status of conference and event organisers and increase the recognition given to its members.
2.2	Strategic Aims
	The Association's strategic aims are to uphold our values:
	Excellence – Enhance our members' status and recognition as professionals
	Learning – Raise standards of professionalism by offering engaging learning opportunities
	Belonging – Constantly develop and enhance the benefits we offer to our members
	Industry Voice – Increase the profile and recognition of the PCO community
2.3	ABPCO wishes to ensure the UK meetings industry is able to compete on the world-stage through collaboration with other meeting industry organisations. To achieve this, we will: Seek and maintain strategic relationships with affiliate organisations that are committed to the promotion of business events, whether nationally or internationally.
