

Anna Abdelnoor

ISLA

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/anna-abdelnoor-sustainable-events/>

How can we use sustainable events to regenerate the industry

The event industry has experienced unprecedented change over the last two years, this transformation shouldn't stop at recovery but complete regeneration with sustainability at its core. Events businesses can deliver even more value and win business in supporting clients and stakeholders to achieve their climate ambitions through their events. How can we drive forward innovation and infrastructure improvements across the sector to shape a better, cleaner and more resilient future for events?